

HOLIDAY TRADE.

A Visit to the Principal Business Places in Janesville.

Places Where You Can Purchase Good, Durable and Cheap Goods

Either for the Holidays or for General Purposes.

Something that Concerns Everyone with a Family, a Brother, Sister, Wife, Husband, Sweetheart or Mother-in-law.

CLOTHIERS.

M. C. SMITH & SON.

At this old reliable, square dealing establishment, can be found anything from a pair of socks to the finest beaver overcoat, varied in prices as well as hues and texture. The gentlemanly salesmen will always tell you what you are purchasing, study well the wants of their customers, and always maintain the life-long axiom of the square dealing of the firm. They have an immense stock of holiday goods.

A. & F. SONNEBORN,
the Star Clothiers, in the Myers House block, who have been in the clothing business in Janesville for many years, and always carrying a store full of fine furnishing goods, have on hand one of the largest and most varied stock ever stored upon their counters, which is saying a good deal considering the cry of hard times. By an inspection of their stocks and prices, one would believe that hard times were a thing of the past. Their stock of holiday goods is second to none.

J. L. FORD
Makes a specialty of merchant tailoring, but has a large stock of Gents' furnishing goods, hats and caps, etc., etc., and has by his long business career in this city earned and maintained a first class patronage. His stock was never more complete than now, and his customers can be assured of having their orders filled to the letter. Ford can always be found at the corner of West Milwaukee and River streets.

E. T. FOOTE
just now is occupied with a great sale of winter goods for men, boys and youths, which he has marked down in price to suit the times. Besides he has one of the completest stocks of furnishing goods, hats and caps, in fact, everything required to dress up a man or boy, and he deals in goods of the very best quality and disposes of them at bottom prices. A visit to Foote's, near the post office, will seldom fail to suit all.

DRY GOODS.

are now in the midst of a forty days' sale of special season dress goods; among which they have not overlooked the holiday trade. This establishment is one of the oldest in the city, and their store is always filled with the latest styles and best brands of goods, which are disposed of at the very lowest living rates. It is difficult in a short newspaper notice, to enumerate the vast stock carried by this firm, nothing short of a personal inspection will convince the reader of its compass and variety. Their stock is complete, in quantity and quality unsurpassed, and the firm publicly declare that they will not be undersold.

A closing out sale of dry goods, millinery and carpets, one of the greatest sales ever made by this firm, is now in progress at their mammoth establishment on Main street. Their stock is simply immense, and they offer extraordinary bargains in every branch of their store. Occupying one of the largest stores in the State, they certainly have one of the largest and most varied assortment of goods, which are being rapidly disposed of at their usual close margin of profit. A visit to this store is worth the time of any one.

JOHN H. WINGATE.

The popular head of the One Price Dry Goods Store in Jackson & Smith's block, has a complete stock of goods, fresh from the eastern market. He invites a personal inspection of his stock, and guarantees one price to all. He has a splendid stock of seasonal goods.

J. & D. CREIGHTON, of the Centennial Store, have a large stock of goods, and an immense variety of notions, and special holiday goods. Their store is popular, and visitors will not fail to find articles valuable for almost any purpose. For a more general particularization of their goods see their advertisement in another column.

M'CLELLAN & CO.
Enjoy a very liberal patronage, and have a large sale in their specialty of domestic goods. Located in the Myers block, right in the center of our dry goods market, their stock is always in comparison with their competitors, and is as favorably spoken of as the best. Fair dealing and strict attention to business has won this firm an enviable reputation.

GROCERIES & PROVISIONS.

W. T. VANKIRK.
Next, perhaps, in comfort to being well clothed or dressed, is to have the pantry supplied with choice, fresh and seasonal groceries and provisions, and it seems that as a caterer to the wants of the public, Vankirk did not mistake his calling when, years ago, he adopted this trade as his business. A visit to his large establishment will convince the most skeptical of the truth of this. He disposes of his goods at bed-rock prices, and to please his many customers is his only aim.

G. W. HAWES,
In the Methodist church block, is closing

Special to the Gazette.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The flight of the Amer is confirmed. General Browne occupies Jhalabad.

SNOW.

Special to the Gazette.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—A heavy snow storm is prevailing here, and already there are two feet of snow. It is extending as far East as Boston, and also visiting the South.

SAVED.

Special to the Gazette.

PARIS, Dec. 21.—The Scudo says the Fraissinet steamship Cohas has received a telegram, announcing that nearly all the Byzant's passengers are among the saved.

DEAD.

Special to the Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Congressman A. S. Williams, of Michigan, is dead. He was 69 years old. He was a graduate of Yale, and moved to Michigan in 1890, where he held many important offices. He was a lawyer, and gained a wide reputation as a practitioner. He served in the Mexican war, and also in the army of the Rebellion, and commanded the corps at South Mountain, Antietam, and Gettysburg, and the 20th corps at Atlanta, and on Sherman's famous march to the sea. He was elected as a Democrat to the 44th and 45th Congresses.

THE BERLIN MISSION.

The Place Seekers After Taylor's Late Position.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—General Hoyt, Governor elect of Pennsylvania, is expected here today. It is understood his mission is to urge upon the President the appointment of Governor Hiramfit as Minister to Germany. He will be accompanied to Washington by a number of the leading Republicans of the State, and will be joined by Senator Cameron. The impression still prevails here that George W. Curtis will receive the appointment though his friends say that after having declined the English mission a year ago it is not likely he would accept the German mission.

SHERIDAN WINS.

The General Wins His Case in the United States Court.

New York, Dec. 20.—The jury in the case of James E. Whelan against General Sheridan, on trial in the United States Circuit Court the last three weeks, brought in a verdict for the defendant this evening. The suit was for the recovery of over $400,000 for the seizure of the Kilona plantation, St. Charles parish, Louisiana, in August, 1867, and the ejectment of Whelan by military order of Gen. Sheridan, who was then military governor. A motion will be made for a new trial.

BURNED.

A Flouring Mill Valued at $40,000, Destroyed by Fire.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Dec. 20.—The flouring mill of White, Nash & Co., Lanesboro, Minn., this morning, took fire on a defective flue and burned. It was valued at $40,000, and insured for $17,500. The owners were Messrs. White and Nash, Lanesboro, and E. V. White, of this city and Minneapolis.

GENERAL GRANT.

He Now Contemplates a Visit to Ireland.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—General Grant contemplates visiting Ireland, accompanied by Minister, Welsh and Noyes, about Christmas time. The ill health of the former has delayed the journey somewhat. The General goes to Ireland as a final leave-taking before his departure for India.

TOOMBS.

His Views about Grant and the Presidency.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—General Robert Toombs, of Georgia, being asked to-day by your correspondent about Grant for next President, replied: "Well, if by the decree of the Almighty we are not to be free for four years more from Radical power, then I should say, give us a full lion, not a sneaking sheep. Grant is a lion. I have respect for the man, for he either kills or wins. I have never forgotten how gracefully he treated Lee and our soldiers at the surrender. Grant is better for the South, than though he is, than is a sheep who strives to make a lion of himself." As to the Democratic candidates, General Toombs refused to commit himself.

BAYARD TAYLOR.

Public Sympathy and Sorrow Universally Expressed.

BERLIN, Dec. 21.—The sorrow for the death of Mr. Bayard Taylor is universal. The Emperor and Empress only a few hours before the fatal symptoms appeared sympathetically sent in to inquire regarding the American Minister's health. Many telegrams are arriving from all parts of the world, especially America, tending sympathy to the bereaved wife and daughter. General Grant sent a dispatch last night offering his condolence. Members of the Imperial family, dignitaries, and State officers left cards to-day for the widow. The German Imperial Government in the name of the nation sent a touching letter sincerely lamenting the loss of such a distinguished man. The entire newspaper press of Berlin speaks of Mr. Taylor in the highest terms of praise.

The Berlin Official Gazette pays a high tribute to Mr. Taylor's character. All other newspapers publish similar panegyrics. BERLIN, Dec. 20.—The funeral services over the remains of the late Minister Taylor will be held at the American Legation Sunday, when the body will be taken to the mortuary, and await transportation to America. Sunday the American residents will take action at the American chapel.

THE ARMY.

The Fate of the Bill to Reorganize the Army.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The House Committee on appropriations does not expect the bill for the reorganization of the army to pass, and it will sit during the recess to prepare the army and legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation bills so as to have both ready to report as soon as Congress convenes. Mr. Atkins, Chairman, said to-day that the committee should prepare the army bill as usual, and would assume that the army reorganization bill will not become a law this session. The Appropriations Committee, he says, will not allow the Military Committee to attach to any appropriation bill as a rider, and if it passed it must go independently and on its own merits. Mr. Atkins says that he hopes to have the appropriation bills disposed of, as far as the House is concerned, by the 15th of February, and if the work is crowded into the last few days, as is always the case, the Senate will be to blame.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Senator Burnside made a few remarks in the Senate to-day on his Military bill. All of the Committee except Plumb think the bill will pass, but it is by no means certain. The sticking point is in reducing the number of officers. Under Burnside's bill 374 have to go, as there is absolutely nothing for them to do but command imaginary men and draw salaries. In speaking of this to-day, a Senator remarked that powerful social influence would be brought to bear against the bill. He thought the social influence could control twenty votes in the Senate.

What we all want now, is money! You may realize hundreds of dollars by investing $50 in stock operations through the reliable house of Alex. Frothingham & Co., brokers, 12 Wall street, New York. Their Weekly Financial Report gives full information and is sent free.

A Provident Sexton.
 Mantowoc Pilot: The village of Keweenaw is noted for people of provident habits and wonderful forethought. They generally take time by the forelock and are invariably prepared for winter's cold or summer's heat. The village sexton of that place, putting little faith in the signs that the coming winter will be an unusually mild one, and, perhaps, knowing from experience that grave-digging through "triple folds" of frozen ground is attended with more labor than a consulate in a warm climate, has delved into the ground in advance of Jack Frost and prepared six homes for as many persons who will join the ranks of the silent majority before the spring of 1879. Hamlet's grave digger, with his wheezy laugh and his jests of skulls and dead men's bones, had not half the professional pride of his brother of the spade in Keweenaw. He preaches in a tongue that all understand, and people in Keweenaw will begonly while the grave yaws for them.

Longevity of the Horse.
 Rondout (N. Y.) Courier: At Rochester, in this county, the 13th of September marked the oldest horse on record, for a number of years. He was the property of the famous Daniel D. Bell, of legal as well as gold mine notoriety. He was known by the name of "Gumbo," and in his day was a noted stallion. Many citizens of Kingston and of Ulster county remember the horse when they were boys. At the time of his death he had attained the ripe age of 45 years and 6 months. He retained a remarkable vitality to the last, and for three quarters of an hour before his demise he stood upon his legs, proud and majestic as in his younger days. He had long been the property of Bell, who had driven him many thousands of miles in his lifetime, he having owned him a period of twenty-seven years and a half, since he was 18 years old. It anybody can beat this let him speak out.

The Right Sort of a Woman.
 Wausau Wisconsin: A highly sensational scrimmage of the knock down and drag out order, occurred on one of our streets, one day last week. A Mr. P., upon returning from a night season of enjoyment with the "boys," was met by an irate spouse armed with a sled stick, and a profane resolve to teach Mr. P. a lesson in domestic tidiness as purchased at rum holes and murdering quiches. He had no sooner put in an appearance than the lesson began. After being knocked down for a dozen times or more, the husband made up his mind the lesson was well learned and promised better things for the future. Domestic discipline of this kind is hard to take, especially when administered with a murderous looking sled stick in all public places; yet it is said to be lasting.

F. H. Fellows has a fine display of watches, jewelry, silver and plated ware, designed especially for the holiday trade. It will repay anyone to look over his stock.

Last evening Colonel Britton and wife gave a fine social party to about forty of their intimate friends. At a seasonable hour refreshments were served, when the rest of the evening was devoted to popular games.

A genuine Singer sewing machine would be a very acceptable present for your wife, daughter or sister. Call at the Singer office, No. 3, East Milwaukee street and make your selection at once, to avoid the crowd.

Dear in mind that Moseley has the finest assortment of fancy holiday goods to be found in the city. Remember also that you get more for your money than at any other place, and be sure and go there before you make your purchases.

Advertising will tell. Notbohm & Bros. cannot furnish "H. G. Y." only 10,000 barrels of flour, even if the price has been reduced, but they can furnish that or any other amount at as low prices as can be had anywhere.

In looking over the fine stock of Holiday goods on exhibition at the several stores about town, we have seen no better display or greater variety, or at prices more in accordance with the times, than at the well known and popular Drugstore of Croft & Sherer.

Warren Collins has put a grand Weber piano in the Institute for the Blind. It is one of the finest instruments in the city. The Weber was taken at the suggestion of Prof. Van Cleave, who can be said to have an unerring judgment regarding the merits of pianos.

Washington Engine Company No. 1 will give their annual dance at Apollo hall, on Tuesday evening, December 24th. Music by Smith & Tuckwood's full band. The company extend a cordial invitation to the public and will spare neither pains nor expense that all their patrons may have an evening of enjoyment. Give the boys a full house.

The race course on the fair grounds has been very carefully scraped, and now the track is in the most excellent condition. Those who desire to test the speed of their horse will find the track a much better place than South Main street.

A number of persons have been utilizing it to-day, and they ask for more company on the principle that "more the merrier."

Mr. J. A. Kimberley, the senior proprietor of the Globe and Neenah Paper Mills, of Neenah, in this State, was in the city to-day. Mr. Kimberley's firm are the heaviest manufacturers of print paper in the West. They have been long established, have a wide reputation for making excellent goods, and are men of uncompromising integrity. They have recently built a large mill at Appleton for the manufacture of Manila paper which is having a flattering success.

The Pleasant Grove Temple of Honor gave a social dance on Friday evening at Janesville Grange Hall for the benefit of Mr. W. B. Rice, who resides in that neighborhood. He is a needy person, having been such for some time, and also recently had the misfortune to lose one of his horses. The object was most worthy one, and the members and the friends of the Pleasant Grove Temple, deserve the thanks of all charitable persons for the practical sympathy they expressed toward him. The attendance was large, and several went from this city.

TIDBITS OF TESTIMONY

No One Need Swear Any More About the Mack Murder.

The Testimony All Put In, and the Crowd All Put Out.

The Doctors All Declare that Mack's Head Was Not Hit with a Pitcher.

Another Scene in which "Bin" Knocks George Down and Chokes Him.

The Prosecution and the Defense Sock Dirty Socks at Each Other.

Dickerson Squeals to the End, and is the Last to Leave the Witness Box.

Witnesses Who Are Not Believed Under Oath.

The Arguments to Be Made Next Monday.

Eleventh and Closing Day.

Beyond what was published in the Gazette last evening there was little done in the Mack murder case yesterday afternoon, except putting a few finishing touches to Mrs. Mack's testimony, and putting the doctors again on the stand to testify concerning the wound found on Mack's head. Their testimony was in some respects important. A large number of witnesses were also produced by the State to impeach Snell, Roethinger, and Wright, who testified for the defense, as to certain conversations which Dickerson had with them while in jail.

On this re-direct examination she said: Before the coroner's jury I said that I did not know that Mack was jealous of me, but I had a suspicion that he was from his actions; I did tell Poole that my husband was too ugly to die; I said laughingly that folks when they were sick enough to die didn't make as much fuss as Mack did, and that he was too ugly to die, and then I laughed; he had a physician attending him, and I was taking care of him besides doing all my work; I remember about putting a mustard plaster on Mack, one when Mr. Poole was there; Mack said he thought I had made it too strong; I told him jestingly that he was making a good deal of fuss and that if he didn't keep still I would give him that Dr. Bell had left, or something of that kind; before the coroner's jury I said that the half-breed, Dickerson had learned about there having been in that neighborhood a fellow who was a sort of half-breed; he learned that fact once while he was at work on the farm; a person of that description had been in the employment of my husband, the time being when we lived on the Reigert place; I did not know whether he was a half-breed, and first heard the name applied to him by Dickerson one day at the table, when he said

HE LOOKED LIKE A HALF-BREED;

Dickerson was referring to a person that had been there that forenoon; after my husband discharged Dickerson he went the Sunday following to Kemerer's to get him to come back to work; I had charge of affairs on the farm, during my husband's illness, and when I sent for Dickerson to come back to work; the reason I sent for him was that I knew of no one else, and had no time to hunt up anybody else; at the inquest I testified that I was not sure about

but that to the best of my recollection he had changed so that we could have it to wash on Wednesday; told them I only washed one of his shirts on Wednesday; did not testify at all about whether he changed his shirt Sunday; did not think Sunday that my husband had been murdered, but supposed he had been killed accidentally by the horse; my condition Sunday was as follows: I was stunned at first, and afterwards became quite excited about it; (the witness indulged in another season of weeping, and proceeded with difficulty) on Friday night my husband had been to bed before he chased me up stairs, and got out of bed; my condition Sunday was as follows: I was stunned at first, and afterwards became quite excited about it; (the witness indulged in another season of weeping, and proceeded with difficulty) on Friday night my husband had been to bed before he chased me up stairs, and got out of bed; my condition Sunday was as follows: I was stunned at first, and afterwards became quite excited about it; (the witness indulged in another season of weeping, and proceeded with difficulty)

On being further cross-examined she stated that Dickerson came back to work on Sunday to work; Mack wouldn't allow him to work but discharged him again; he had then been discharged twice when I sent for him to come to work.

Mrs. Mack was then permitted to leave the witness box, her testimony being closed.

The defense offered on exhibit the paper claimed to have been put around the loudspeaker bottle. It was marked "exhibit 11."

Mrs. Mack was recalled to the stand to explain about but the explanation necessary involving a conversation which was not admissible, the matter was obliged to rest in the dark. She answered some other questions though as follows: I never told Dickerson in jail that he must swear that the clothes were put under the privy after his arrest, and that way he would get clean.

I did say you testified in Beloit that we had a conversation about putting the bloody clothes under the privy, and we never had any such letter, and you know it."

On being cross-examined she said: He made no reply to this; did hear him swear at Beloit about putting the bloody clothes under the privy.

Mrs. Mack was again allowed to step down out of the box.

Mr. Winas said that with the exception of possibly calling another witness, who was expected from Beloit.

THE DEFENSE WOULD REST ITS CASE.

The State then took up the contest by calling Mr. Carl Goodell to the stand: Am a druggist in Beloit; on the evening of July 19 I saw a man who gave his name as Joseph Watsic in my drug store; he came in and asked me to give him a box of ointment and one-third of laudanum for which he paid twenty-five cents; I asked him if he wanted it for himself and he said no; I asked him who it was for and he said it was for George Mack, who lived in the town of Turtle.

On being cross-examined he said: I recollect most of what passed between us; that it was about 9 o'clock; closed up ten minutes to eleven; remember other sales that night; one to Mr. Horace Dearborn, not far from half past seven o'clock; sold also to other parties, but cannot name them without referring to the books; made one sale just as I closed the store; don't know what time it was; don't remember what wrapper I put around the bottle; after wrapping up the bottle I said, "What is your name, please?" he said "Watsic," I said, "what?" he said, "Watsic, Jo W-a-t-s-i-c; live out with George Mack, in Turtle. Do you know him?" I told him "I have heard of him. What do you want of it? Who is it for?" he then asked him, "Is it for Mr. Mack?" He said, "Yes it is for Mr. Mack."

Dr. Bell was then called by the State. He testified: Saturday July 13 was a very warm day; a man with such an injury as Mack had on his head, would not be able to be about on that day in my opinion.

THE INJURY ON MACK'S HEAD

As I saw it Sunday morning presented no appearance of having been washed or dressed; if that wound had been produced on Friday night I would have found a swelling of the head on Sunday morning, but I found no such swelling; in the condition in which we found it, I could not state whether or not it had been washed or dressed; I saw the pitcher referred to, and the injury found on the head Sunday morning in my opinion could not have been made by it.

On being cross-examined he stated: Cannot tell how much the pitcher weighed; would not say whether it was used within a short time, but surely not within two hours; it would not follow as quickly where the flesh was cut and bleeding as where it was not cut; swelling would not follow as quickly after a blow there as on some other parts of the body, because of the way in which the blood is absorbed; found scarcely any coagulated blood, none in fact except that held by the hair and dirt about it.

On re-direct examination he stated: The wound was wholly within the brain, and none of it down the forehead.

On cross-examination The bandage found about the neck of the body showed some indications of having arnica upon it.

Re-direct—It was a piece of white cloth, about an inch wide, of double thickness, and tied in a knot resting loosely about the neck.

was called to the stand and testified: Do not remember the coroner's jury; on July 13; if it had been a warm day Mr. Mack could not, in my opinion, work about mowing, in the hay field, or driving reaper with such a wound on his head; that is, taking him to be an average man; if he had been sick and not fully recovered, this probability would have been increased; do not think the wound on his head could have been made by the pitcher; I found no swelling about the wound; if I had been produced Friday night, I should have expected to find some swelling; the wound could not have been produced Friday night; the wound was all within the hair; I removed the hair from the neck; did not see it until after the witness was unbuttoned; noticed nothing in particular but a saturation on the back side like the other clothing.

On cross-examination—If the wound had been produced on Friday night and applications had been made to it, I think it might have modified the swelling, but I don't think arnica would have played any part in it; it would not have caused the disappearance of all the swelling; if night and on Saturday night, set bleeding again it would have had the same effect; that is, it would have modified the swelling somewhat.

Direct examination—There were no indications of more than one wound on the head.

Cross-examination—Am positive that the wound was not caused by a second blow.

Direct examination—If a wound had been made in the same place Friday night, and another wound there Saturday night, I should have expected to find swelling.

Dr. Bell was recalled to answer a question put to him by Mr. Winas; I saw the pillow slips in Mack's room, and noticed that they had been stained, and had the odor of arnica.

A WRIGHT IMPEACHMENT.

Sam Allen, R. H. Brown, Wm. Wilkins, Augustus Ziley, C. F. F. North, all testified that they knew Wallace Wright, and would not believe him under oath.

ROETHINGER'S VERACITY.

Franklin Whitaker, D. E. Fifield, Wm. A. Lawrence, J. J. Comstock, L. M. Gilmore, S. L. James, N. N. Jackson, testified that they would not believe John Roethinger, Jr., under oath.

SNELL'S REPUTATION.

Chauncey Ross, E. J. Carpenter, Wm. Hart, A. H. Sand, N. McLachlin, John Paul, swore that they would not believe Steven Snell under oath.

At this point adjournment was taken until morning.

THIS MORNING

there was a showing of bare benches, the bulk of the sensationalism in the case having been already spread before the public. All that remained to-day was the putting of a few finishing touches, and a gathering together of the scatterings.

Dutty Sheriff Mack was recalled to the stand. He stated: Was present at a conversation between Wallace Wright and the District Attorney; heard Wright say that all Dickerson had told him was that he was about having intercourse with Mrs. Mack, and about the laudanum.

Mrs. Adeline Wood,

THE MOTHER OF FRANK DICKERSON,

was called to the stand. The prosecution offered to prove by her and others that Susie Gilbert, whom it was alleged that Dickerson had been going to marry, had been dead two years and that Dickerson knew it. Objection was made, and the objection being sustained no testimony was elicited from the witness.

Mr. H. L. Shoemaker, was recalled to the stand; was a member of the coroner's jury; Mrs. Mack was called to the stand; that Dickerson had last changed his shirt on Wednesday; she also testified that he had not changed his shirt that Sunday, but it was the same shirt he put on Wednesday. I had a talk with Etta Mack that Sunday, she did not tell me that her father choked her mother; she said she woke up and went into the hall and saw her father and mother on the stairs; she did not say how or why, and I did not see any marks on her mother's breast.

Joe Watsic was recalled and testified: On Friday night I got thirty-five cents from Mack; heard Mack say that was all the change he had or

ALL THE MONEY HE HAD;

"Ber," (the second child) did not sleep up stairs the week prior to Mack's death; she slept with Mack until Saturday night.

On being cross-examined—I did not tell the druggist that the laudanum was for George Mack; understood him to ask me who I worked for and I told him George Mack.

Frank Dickerson was again called: "Ber" was at home the week prior to Mack's death and slept with him all the week; she did not sleep up stairs with her mother except Saturday night.

THE DIRTY WHITE SOCKS

found in the lilac bush were shown Dickerson and he denied that they were his, or that he ever placed them in the lilac bush. He testified that he had only one pair of white socks, and he took those to jail with him. He continued his testimony: Mr. Mack never told me when I kissed her at the sewing machine, "young man that's played out, don't you ever cut up that caper again."

Cross-examined—Do not remember of testifying at Beloit that I left a pair of dirty socks in the lilac bush; I am sure I did not testify that I left them there because

THE SOCKS DID NOT SMELL GOOD.

Relieved—I never told Mr. Mack in jail that I had, wronged her and I did it to screen my self, or anything like that.

The prosecution proposed to offer in evidence the record in the case of the State vs. Stephen Snell, but there being some legal questions involved, the matter was deferred to a later date, and on further investigation was dropped.

MARKING AND CHOKING IN 1865.

Mrs. Eliza Olin, of Janesville, was sworn: Have seen personal violence between Mack and his wife; it was in August, 1865; I was living at Mack's then and was not married; she wanted Mack to go to work, but she wouldn't let it; she struck him and he fell over a chair onto the floor and she then choked him.

Cross-examined—My maiden name was Warrick, and we lived on a farm near Mack's; I was sixteen years old when this occurred; never told it outside of my family until I told it here; don't know how the prosecution found it out.

THE STATE THEN RESTED ITS CASE.

Mr. R. D. Whitford, who is a law student with Bennett & Sale was called by the defense to testify as to what Dickerson said at the examination at Beloit, at which examination he took notes. Mr. Whitford stated that Dickerson testified at Beloit: "I think I put a pair of

under the window, and left them there, and they are there now as far as I know; left them there because they did not smell good; wore white stockings on Saturday, and think I took off my shoes in the shanty that night and wore the stockings up stairs." The defense then called of Beloit, who also took notes at the examination of the defendant at Beloit last July, but as the prosecution admitted that he minutes in regard to the dirty socks corresponded with those of Mr. Whitford, his testimony was not called out, it being deemed by the Court unnecessary.

MRS MACK AGAIN

took the stand and testified: I never set eyes upon Mrs. Olin before I saw her on the witness stand, and no such occurrence took place as she testified to; my sister, Mrs. Chapin, was at our house at the time referred to; the dirty socks belonged to Dickerson; I identify them from a patch I placed upon one of them; Mr. Mack had no white stockings neither had Watsic.

The dirty stockings were then added to the museum of things offered in evidence.

Mrs. Mack was asked by Mr. Bennett if she had ever patched more than one pair of white stockings for Dickerson; she said she had not. Dickerson was sitting within the rail on the further side, produced a pair of white stockings and Mr. Bennett showed these together, and asked her if she had patched those. She indignantly denied that there were any specimens of her needle work there; she said the pair shown her. Mr. Bennett promised to put Dickerson on the stand after a little to see what he had to say about this.

Etta Mack, again testified: My little sister "Ber" came home from her grandmother's Sunday or Monday before papa's death; she had been in the fall; she said after coming home, and after that she slept up stairs in our room; remember it because I wanted her to go up stairs and sleep.

Cross-examined—Don't remember how long I had been home from school.

Mrs. Cordelia Chapin was sworn, and testified: Have known Etta Mack 23 years; am a sister of the defendant; think I was living in her family in 1865; was there through harvest and into the fall; don't remember what month I went there, but think I went home with her on the 4th of July; left there when they were stripping sugar in the fall; was not absent over half during that time; never saw or heard of her having any woman in her employ named Eliza Warrick; she had no woman at all in her employ.

Cross-examined—Do not know as I can tell what year this was in; it might have been in 1865 or 1866; don't think Mack was in the fall; he might have been in the year, but don't know surely; do not remember what month it was when I left there, or what time in the month; remember of leaving for home on a load of sugar cane, but it was in the fall; Chester Calhoun was his hired man; Eugene Cannon helped him in harvest, and Eugene Cannon also helped him; don't know when he commenced sacking, or when he commenced cutting grain; my attention was first called to this matter by Eugene Cannon shortly before I came on the stand; remember of being with them in 1867, but can't tell what time I went there.

Mrs. Mack in answer to a question said that they lived on the Reigart farm only one year, and that was from the fall of 1864 to the winter of 1865.

Mr. Winas remarked

"THAT'S OUR CASE."

Mr. Sale called Mr. Dickerson to the stand. He testified: Mrs. Mack patched a pair of white stockings for me; I had only one pair of white ones, and they are the ones which I now show; they are the only ones I had and the only ones she ever patched for me.

The second pair of stockings were then offered in evidence, and the examination of the witnesses in the Mack murder trial was declared to be at an end at last.

As the trial had been a prolonged one, and the testimony very voluminous, that it would be an accommodation to have the arguments postponed until Monday morning. Judge Conger assented and the court adjourned until 9 o'clock Monday morning.

PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENT.

Last evening the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Woodruff, on Jackson street, was the scene of one of the most pleasant and brilliant parties ever given in this city. It was given by their daughter, Miss Jennie, to her young friends, of whom she happily enjoys a very wide circle. About one hundred and fifty invitations were issued, and it is flattering to Miss Jennie and the family that only ten regrets were sent. The spacious and well-appointed residence was fittingly illuminated and decorated for the joyful occasion, and nothing was left undone that would contribute to the personal comfort of the guests. The toilets were elegant and exceedingly attractive, and in this respect the party was never surpassed in Janesville. Anderson's full band furnished the inspiring music for the occasion, to which the company responded in dance until an early hour this morning. The refreshments served did ample honor to the occasion. The bill of fare was elaborate, and every article was prepared by master hands. The painstaking and generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff, and the strong social power and the accomplishments of their daughter, Miss Jennie, combined to make the gathering one of the most noted and brilliant given in Janesville for a long time.
